

STLD Visit to King's College Chapel

The STLD is planning a visit to the world-famous chapel at King's College, Cambridge on Wednesday 5th December.

2018 marks the 100th anniversary of Carols from King's, one of BBC's longest running television programmes. The meeting will include a guided tour of the historic chapel, as well as a talk on how the television programme is made.

Partners are also invited, and a coach will be run from East London subject to numbers of those showing interest. The current plan is to leave East London at 10.00 and to return by 18.00.

If you are interested in coming please email secretary@stld.org.uk with the subject as 'Kings' stating whether you would want to take up the option of the coach transport. Further details will be sent as plans progress
